Culligan Water Store - Small business doing BIG things

You don't have to look far to find examples of small businesses that are doing big things; some right here in our local community. Culligan Water Store of Bridgewater, Nova Scotia is one of these small businesses that are doing big things!

Culligan Water Store has been a family business, locally owned and operated, since 1983. We service homes, businesses and industries of all sizes with bottled water and water treatment services. In over 25 years, we've seen about every water problem imaginable. We solve these problems to deliver the refreshing, clean and pure water that's our hallmark. One such example of "doing big things" is the recently completed job at North Queens Schools in Caledonia, Nova Scotia.

North Queens Schools have been plagued with water problems since the schools opened. Over the years, the South Shore Regional School Board has relied on bottled water for their students and staff.

Public schools are responsible to meet or exceed all Canadian Drinking Water Standards. The Guidelines for Canadian Drinking Water Quality<sup>1</sup> are published by Health Canada. These guidelines are based on current, published scientific research related to health effects, aesthetic effects, and operational considerations.

Through Culligan bottled water service, a relationship grew with the school board. Culligan was awarded the tender to fix their water challenges once and for all. In consultation with an engineering firm, Culligan designed and constructed a customized water treatment system for the treatment of:

- iron
- manganese
- hardness
- bacteria
- color
- turbidity

In addition to the design and construction of the water treatment equipment, Culligan also managed all aspects of the project including electrical, plumbing and installation; offering a complete turnkey package to the South Shore Regional School Board. Third party water tests
